

F. D. ROOSEVELT HAD "FLU."

The Globe (1844-1936); Oct 22, 1918; ProQuest Historical Newspapers: The Globe and Mail
pg. 4

F. D. ROOSEVELT HAD "FLU."

Washington, Oct. 21. — Franklin D. Roosevelt, United States Assistant Secretary of the Navy, returned to his desk to-day for the first time since his recent visit to France. He was stricken aboard ship with Spanish influenza, which developed into pneumonia, and was seriously ill at his home in New York for some time.

---

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.