

NURSE K. S. TUCKER DIES AT HAVERHILL

Miss Elizabeth Rittenhouse of Dunnville Also Suc- cumbs to Grippe

Miss Katherine S. Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Tucker of 115 Ellsworth avenue, Toronto, died of pneumonia at Hale Hospital, Haverhill, Mass., on Tuesday, October 15. The late Miss Tucker was born in Peel township, Wellington county, September 2, 1884, and went to a New York hospital for post-graduate nursing in 1909. After considerable work in New York, she traveled through the States with many patients, and was engaged around Guelph during the past several years.

While engaged in fighting influenza she was taken ill, and succumbed to pneumonia. On behalf of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Samuel McCaul sent the parents of the deceased a letter of sympathy, praising her heroic work.

The funeral will be held to-day from Matthews' Undertaking Parlors to Prospect Cemetery.

Two brothers of the late Miss Tucker fell at Passchendaele: Lance-Corp. Lewis Tucker on November 6, 1917, and Pte. Howard W. H. Tucker on November 10.

Miss Elizabeth Rittenhouse was another nurse who died yesterday. The funeral will be from the Truil Undertaking Parlors Monday afternoon, with interment at Dunnville, Ont.
