

FIVE DEATHS IN CITY HOSPITALS

Friday's death toll from Spanish influenza in the principal city hospitals numbered five, as follows:

General Hospital—Mrs. Lendhart, 70 Shaftesbury avenue; Stanley Linton, 91 Peter street, and Peter Donaldson, Fort William.

Western Hospital—Joseph Sestenee, 4 Newsham avenue.

St. Michael's Hospital—James Bower, 2 Milan street.

At the General Hospital thirty nurses are now suffering from influenza. One of them is Miss Hope Aylesworth of Winnipeg, niece of Sir Allan Aylesworth. Her condition is critical, and her recovery was stated to be doubtful at midnight last night. However, doctors and nurses in attendance noticed an improvement over her condition of the early part of the evening. Miss Aylesworth's relatives are hurrying from Winnipeg. Miss Aylesworth is a third year undergraduate nurse.

The private patients' pavilion at the hospital has now been isolated. In the other wards of the institution more than the ordinary precautions used to prevent contagion are being taken advantage of so serious is the epidemic now regarded. It has been ordered to prevent the spread of the epidemic among the patients.

At the Western Hospital, at Grace Hospital and in St. Michael's Hospital it was stated that the members of the nursing staffs who had been stricken with the disease were making progress to recovery.
