

2 BRITISH FLYERS TAKE 65 GERMANS

Pilot and Observer of Plane Shepherd Enemy Flock to Allied Lines

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, Sept. 24.—Two British aviators, flying low in one machine, brought about the surrender of 65 Germans, and, without leaving their plane, shepherded them across No Man's Land to the British lines, according to a story from the battlefield, made public to-day.

The pilot and his observer had been attacked from a trench and sunken road. The pilot dived and replied to the enemy fire with his machine gun, killing one and wounding three. The Germans in a panic ceased firing and hoisted a white handkerchief.

As there were no British infantry in that neighborhood, the pilot descended to within 50 feet of the ground and ordered the Germans out of their trenches, circling around them to insure that none escaped. All were safely brought in and handed over to the nearest British troops. The aviators then resumed their patrol.

CANADIAN NURSES GET MILITARY MEDAL

BRAVERY AND COOLNESS DIS- PLAYED DURING ENEMY AIR RAIDS WIN AWARDS.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Sept. 24.—Six Canadian nurses were to-night gazetted for the Military Medal for bravery during enemy air raids. They are:

Matron Edith Campbell of Point Claire, who attended wounded sisters, regardless of personal danger; Leonora Herrington of Napanee, who remained on duty the entire night, and by her personal example of courage was largely responsible for the maintenance of discipline and efficiency; Lottie Urquhart, New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, who, when four bombs fell on her wards, attended to the wounded with courage and devotion, being an inspiring example; Janet Mary Williamson of Grenville, Quebec, who displayed exceptional coolness in a badly damaged ward, sustaining the patients and ensuring their evacuation; Meta Hodge of Hamilton, and Eleanor Jean Thompson of Valleyfield, Quebec, who, although both were injured by a falling beam, extinguished with great presence of mind overturned oil stoves, later helping to remove the patients.

"FLU" CASES INCREASING.

Thirty-seven Deaths of Soldiers in New York and Vicinity.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

New York, Sept. 24.—Thirty-seven deaths and more than 200 new cases of Spanish influenza and pneumonia were reported to-day in this city and nearby army camps. All the deaths were those of soldiers, and 110 of the new cases developed among military or naval men.
