

ANOTHER DEATH IN NIAGARA CAMP

HOSPITAL IN CANADIAN CAMP
NOW HAS ABOUT 190, IN POLISH 100.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Niagara Camp, Oct. 14.—One more death from influenza occurred in the Canadian camp this morning. Pte. P. McCarthy of the Army Medical Corps, who had no next-of-kin so far as known here. His body was sent to Toronto. With forty discharges from hospital to-day the number of "flu" patients in the Canadian camp was reduced to about 190.

The death toll from influenza in the Polish camp remains at nineteen and the number of patients in hospital at about 100.

Capt. Gordon W. Armstrong, Senior Medical Officer of the Canadian Camp, to-day expressed pleasure at the manner in which Headquarters at Toronto co-operated in the fight against the influenza epidemic in camp, and stated that everything that had been asked for from Toronto in this connection had been provided. Six cases of champagne were sent from Toronto, and it is believed here that the champagne had much to do with the recovery of more than one patient through the keeping of the spark of life going until the crisis was passed and recovery was possible.

George F. Rand of Buffalo, who has a residence at Niagara-on-the-Lake, has donated to the hospital in the Canadian camp since the influenza epidemic broke out the output of four Jersey cows for the use of the patients.
